Elba City Council approves another extension on sewer project enforcing liquidated damages

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba City Council voted Monday night, Jan. 24, to give a second extension to the contractor working on the city's sewer project, but the new extension will include liquidated damages.

In July of 2021, the council voted, upon request of the contractor Blankenship Contracting, to give a 180-day extension [180 days] to the contract for the completion of the sewer system upgrades project. Council members were told at that July meeting that the contractor had said the 180-day extension would be allow enough time for the project to be done prior to the new extension date of Feb. 7, 2022.

During the Jan. 10th Elba City Council meeting, council members were told the contractor had indicated during routine project meetings that the project would not be completed by Feb. 7th.

Monday night, Jan. 24, Billy Carpenter with Blankenship Contracting addressed the council asking for more time from the city to allow for the project to be finished while maintaining a good working relationship between the two entities.

Per the project contract, if the contractor does not complete the project by the approved deadline, the city can choose to enforce liquidated damages on a per day basis. The liquidated

Commissioners vote to transfer property/building to City of Elba

by Linda Hodge, Editor

During the Coffee County Commission meeting held Monday morning, Jan. 24, commissioners voted unanimously to transfer ownership of a building and property located in Elba to the City of Elba.

County administrator Rod Morgan said the county owns the former adult day-care property and facility, located in downtown Elba, but that building is no longer being used as an adult daycare. He said the county had looked at alternative uses for the building with no avail; however, he said the City of Elba does have a use for it.

Morgan said City of Elba officials had requested the ownership of the property/building be transferred to the city. Commissioners voted to approve that request.

Upon the administrator's recommendation, commissioners approved to resolutions.

The first was to approve voting place changes created by the recent redistricting in the county. Morgan said this had been discussed

The Elba Board of Education took a step forward in planning for next school year Tuesday night, Jan. 18, when it approved the proposed 2022-2023 school calendar for Elba City Schools.

Superintendent Chris Moseley said the proposed calendar was almost identical to the calendar for the current school year, with the exception of teachers returning to school Monday, Aug. 1, and students returning to school four days [rather than three days later] on Friday, Aug. 5th.

"We felt like it would be good to be able to get four teacher workdays in ahead of the students returning to school," Moseley said. "We felt like this would be good for the teachers; otherwise, the calendar is basically identical to this year's school calendar."

As in the past Elba City Schools will be closed the entire week of Thanksgiving in November [Nov. 21 - 25]. For Christmas break, students will go only a half day on Thursday, Dec. 15, before being dismissed for the holiday. Teachers will have a workday on Friday, Dec. 16, and then be dismissed for the holidays.

Following the holidays, teachers will return to school on Tuesday, Jan. 3, where they will have that day and Jan. 4th as teacher workdays, and the students will return to school from the holiday break on Thursday, Jan. 5, 2023.

The Spring Break holiday for the 2022-2023 school year will be the week of March 27 - March 31. The last day of school for students will be a half day on Wednesday, May 24th for just under 30 students participating.

Regarding COVID, the superintendent said Elba City Schools would remain open for in-person instruction unless staffing issues created a need to do otherwise. He said he realized other school systems had been forced to go virtual recently, but he did not see that being the issue for Elba as long as the system did not run into a staffing issue. "As long as we can keep ing 36-48 hours to get results back," Brown said. "This is slower than we would like, but they are getting bombarded."

He said the easy testing sites are being conducted in several other locations across the state at the same time, and the labs have been experiencing issues keeping up due to the high demand for tests currently.

"We hope they are able to improve upon this and get it back down to 24 hours, however, there is an abundance of tests being received from all-over the country at this time."

The Coffee County testing is available in the ESCC Student Center Parking Lot (Parking Lot C) Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The testing utilizes a Yale saliva PCR test. There is no out-of-pocket expense

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

"I say to you today, my friends, that in spite of the difficulties and frustrations of the moment, I still have a dream." — Martin Luther King Jr.

Free Covid home tests are available from the feds. Guess you can say we 'cheated' on applying for these tests. It was officially announced that they would be available for ordering online last Wednesday. Well, the word leaked out that they were doing a 'soft' opening on Tuesday. We jumped on that and ordered our four free tests Tuesday afternoon. Of course, they have not yet arrived, but we avoided the anticipated system crashing issue with millions of people trying to log on at once. Also, for those trying to get on Wednesday . . . we were not hindering your efforts.

Our brain is still trying to compute the reasoning of our fellow citizens who are so adamantly opposed to the COVID vaccines but are making no progress in that department. The number of false claims floating around continues to expand and are being believed by lots of folks. There is an urge to address these false claims one at the time but that would only act as more publicity for each of them. Boston University analyzed thousands of couples who had survived the virus and found that the 'LONG COVID' infection itself is causing many of the side effects that gossip has attached to the vaccines. Thus, we urge our readers to NOT believe all those negative comments, many coming from those who should know better. About those people we have settled on an idea that they are willing to do whatever necessary, including toy with people's health (and life) just to gain political points. Even the thought of that being true is disappointing and embarrassing.

Elba is being blessed with an extended visit from the traveling Smithsonian Exhibit from early February through much of March. The display will be located in the renovated Elba Theatre 'on the square' in downtown Elba. Admission is free and the exhibit is open Monday through Friday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. beginning February 7th. There will be interactive displays, photographs, special programs plus something called "local water display." This is sponsored by the Elba Chamber of Commerce and the Alabama Humanities Alliance and of course the Smithsonian Institute. We visited one of these exhibits several years ago when it was in Andalusia, featuring our native Covington County, enjoyed the displays and didn't feel our time was wasted!

Prosperity gospel is apparently a growing part of the religious community. This is those "pastors" in both large and small independent 'prosperity' churches who advocate, and practice, getting rich. We read an investigative report recently that cited cases where those folks are rolling in millions of dollars and still soliciting more money from every pot they can find, including folks who don't have enough to keep adequate food on the table nor warm clothes on their back. We personally don't resent anyone who accumulates a sizable bank account, even well beyond their basic needs. . . unless it is on the backs of fellow citizens who are already coming up short of cash to buy life necessities every month. Those are bad guys!

We are reading a book from a former U. S. Representative about events in D.C. Now if you can't think about two extreme sides of a political issue . . . don't dare pick up this book. It tells details pro and con about many issues.

Be safe, wear your mask, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or booster!

Cuzin Lou Lou and Papa braved the cold last Saturday afternoon for a little while to work together and build a new grill gazebo that Lou Lou had purchased for the back patio. While they were outside, Lou Lou allowed Little Bean to run around a play to get rid of some of her "energy" that was in full-force that day.

Little Bean enjoys outside time in a fenced-in area for her own safety, and it also allows Lou Lou to carry on with her projects while not having to keep a watchful eye on the little one the entire time. Most days this works beautifully, especially when Little Bean is on her

"Once you get the text or e-mail from the lab they should automatically contact you with results," Brown said.

On this day, Lou Lou's little angel apparently was listening more to her inner-demon, and she decided it would be fun to dig a hole in the yard near the Yonder gang's house. After Lou Lou had scolded Bean a couple of times, she decided it was time to send the little one inside and let Sister deal with her while Lou Lou and Papa finished their project.

Several minutes later, Papa decided he needed to go inside to warm up a bit before the project could be finished. Lou Lou did not argue because she was freezing too!

Once inside, Lou Lou fixed Papa and herself a nice cup of hot cocoa to drink while they got warm again. When time came for them to return outside, Sister tells Little Bean she can go back out with Lou Lou!

"What in the name of Yonder?!?!" Lou Lou said to Sister! "She just got sent inside for not listening and now you are rewarding her by telling her she can go out again! What are you doing?"

Sister's answer was... "She came inside when you sent her in. Now, she can go back outside."

Ugh! Lou Lou was flabbergasted! "How do you expect me to discipline her if you go behind my back and do the opposite?" she asked Sister.

"I'm not going behind your back. I'm telling her right in front of you that she took her punishment, and now she can go back outside."

Deciding it was a lost cause, Lou Lou let Bean return to the out, but just as she suspected, she was being sent back to the in within minutes because... yep, you guessed it... she went back to the same crime that got her in trouble in the first place! She was trying to dig that hole again!!

When Lou Lou sent Bean back inside this time, she made sure Sister got the message to keep her inside this time!

The next time Little Bean went outside, she decided to pay a bit more attention to Lou Lou, and she stayed out of trouble! If only Sister would learn from Lou Lou... but, that's not likely to ever happen!!

On another note, the construction of the grill gazebo turned out really nice, and Papa only popped Lou Lou in the head with a piece of the equipment only once! There was no blood shed, thank goodness!!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

ages for this project call for $500 per day until substantial completion. At the time substantial completion is reached, the liquidated damages increase to 1,000 per day.

Liquidated damages cover costs for each day the project continues past the agreed-upon date of completion. These funds would be deducted from what the city owes the contractor for the work.

Carpenter, and other representatives of Blankenship in attendance for Monday night's meeting, noted several "issues" they had faced in the Elba project, but council members countered those explanations noting they felt the original extension to the project should have been good enough to allow the contractor to overcome said issues and still complete the project by the extended Feb. 7th deadline.

Council member Gappa Wise made a motion to extend the contract another 75 days [after Feb. 7th] with liquidated damages in place. Council member Bryan Grimes provided a second to the motion, and it passed by unanimous vote of the council.

This makes the new project deadline April 23rd.

During the discussions, Carpenter said he felt the project would be completed within two and a half months, which is where the council came up with a 75-day extension. If the project is not completed now by April 23rd, the council would have to decide again if it wants to give another extension with or without liquidated damages.

After the council approved the motion to provide the new project extension with liquidated damages, giving Blankenship Contracting until April 23rd to complete, Mayor Tom Maddox simply said to the contractor representatives, "we want the project finished."

at a recent work session.

Commissioners also approved a resolution to authorize execution of a letter of intent for a renewable natural gas project at the county landfill. Morgan said the county had been pursuing such a project for some time and had discussed proposals at a recent work session.

County engineer Marty Lentz asked commissioners to accept a proposal from JM Wood Auction for the sale of five 2021 dump trucks at the company's March 15 - 19 auction. He said the county had received a proposal from JM Wood guaranteeing the sale of these dump trucks for at least $175,000 each.

Lentz said the hope was to receive even more than the guaranteed $175,000 each. Commissioners voted unanimously to accept the proposal from JM Wood Auction.

Also, the county engineer said the county had received a proposed minor subdivision plat for a development on County Road 514 by Boland and Boland LLC. He said this would be for 13 lots on 6.6 acres, and all documents complied with the county's subdivision regulations.

Commissioners approved the proposed subdivision plat.

Upon request of the sheriff's office, commissioners approved the surplus of a 2015 Tahoe from that office to Enterprise Rescue. Captain Michael Hines said Enterprise Rescue was in need of a second response vehicle and this vehicle item would meet that need.

The next meeting for the Coffee County Commission will be Monday, Feb. 14, at 9 a.m. in the community room of the county complex in New Brockton.

Ways to Support a Grieving Family During COVID-19

When a loved one is grieving a loss, one of the most important things they need is the love and support of those around them. Unfortunately, the COVID-19 virus is making it difficult to show empathy and support in traditional ways.

It is still vitally important to reach out to those who are grieving, possibly even more so, as they will likely find themselves more isolated than in the past.

Please note that, depending on the mandates from your city, state or the CDC, it is possible some of these suggestions may not be viable options. However, we hope they give you some ideas on ways you can support those around you even in this difficult time.

1) Sign the online condolence book. Our funeral home has an online condolence book for all of our families. You can leave a message online to let someone know you are thinking of them.

2) Never underestimate the power of your words. If you do attend a funeral, there may be times you will not be able hug or hold hands. Instead, make sure to express what you are feeling in words.

3) Provide a listening ear. One thing that never changes (and requires no physical touch) is the need for the griever to be able to express themselves without judgement.

4) Reach out by phone call, text or video chat regularly. One of the most important things you can do to support someone who is grieving is to continue to reach out to them. Video chat can be a good stand in for a face-to-face meeting for the time being.

5) Schedule meal delivery. It is also common when someone loses a loved one to provide support in the form of meals. If you are unable to make food and deliver it, consider scheduling a delivery of food from a local restaurant.

6) Send a card in the mail. Those who are grieving will often appreciate receiving a handwritten card in the mail. It's nice for the griever to receive something physical they can hold and read again and again.

7) Have comfort items or flowers delivered. You can create a care package and have it delivered to the griever's house. You can also likely schedule to have flowers delivered to someone's home.

If you need any other suggestions please do not hesitate to contact us, we are always here to help.

PASTOR'S CORNER

by Steve Reneau, Pastor

Elba United Methodist Church

I invite you to read Nehemiah 8:1-3, 5-6, 8-10 as part of this devotion.

I can still remember the sound of the crash and the dread that coursed through me when the vase fell on the floor shattering. My parents were at work, my sisters on the other side of the house, and I thought maybe I could superglue it back together before anyone noticed. It started out well, but soon I had superglued more of myself together than the vase. I would have to fess up and inquire how to remove superglue. I bet many of us have attempted to put something back together that we broke before someone else noticed.

Ezra, Nehemiah, and Zerubbabel have a much larger task of putting together that which is broken. After the Persian Empire defeated the Babylonians, the exiled Jewish people asked if they could return home, and King Cyrus graciously acquiesced. They returned to Jerusalem to see the broken left by the Babylonians when the sacked the city. The walls were rubble and the great Temple in smolders, but under the leadership of Ezra, Nehemiah, Zerubbabel that which was broken began to be mended. The walls enveloped the city once more, the Temple soared into the sky, and the people returned to learning the law of God.

In Japanese culture their is a beautiful art form called kintsugi. This is the art of mending that which is broken, typically pottery, instead of discarding it as something worthless. Instead of supergluing an object hoping that none will see that it was broken, the cracks are highlighted with gold, silver, or platinum. This method makes the object even more beautiful and strong.

To me, this art form is one of the best expressions of the Christian life. We believe that everyone is broken. Some hide it better than others, but the cracks are there. God desires to mend our broken lives back together into a stronger life, a more beautiful life, a life of meaning and purpose. That's why I love the word "religion" for it comes from the Latin religio meaning "mend together again". May we come to see all of a broken creation being mending back together by the hand of God.

There are two components to the Farmers Market Nutrition Programs (FMNPs), the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) FMNP, WFMNP and the Senior FMNP, SFMNP.

FMNPs provide a direct tie between production agriculture and nutrition by providing seniors and nutritionally at risk women and children the opportunity to buy fresh local produce directly from farmers.

Goals of the Farmers Market Nutrition Programs (FMNPs):

1) To provide fresh, nutritious, unprepared, locally grown fresh fruits, vegetables and herbs from farmers markets and roadside stands to low-income seniors and nutritionally at risk women and children.

2) To increase domestic consumption of agricultural commodities by expanding or aiding in the expansion of farmers markets, roadside stands.

3) To develop or aid in the development of new and additional farmers markets, roadside stands.

Royal Dress Code

How do royal families decide what to wear? In Britain, tradition old and new often dictates the answer.

Some rules about dress are driven by the current queen's preferences. For example, Queen Elizabeth II is not a fan of beards. Another of the queen's nos is for women to wear shoes with wedge heels. And these ladies would not dare be seen wearing bright fingernail polish!

Other rules stem from long-practiced traditions. Even when there is a nip in the air, the boys of royalty wear shorts and high socks in public. Hats are fine, but women of royalty should not wear them indoors after 6:00 p.m. And please - no bare legs. Pantyhose are a must, ladies.

British royalty does not have a monopoly on royal dress codes. Long before, Isaiah spoke of the dress code God requires for those who would enter His presence. But once we have such clothing through Christ, are we careful to respect His dress code? - J.E.

Question / Answer Section

Q/A for the week of 1/27/22
Q: After revealing himself to his brothers, Joseph wanted to know about whom? (Rachel) (Benjamin) (Jacob) (Benjamin) [Genesis 45:3]

Q: What was Joshua told to remove because where he stood was holy? (sword) (shoe) (helmet)

A: Shoe [Joshua 5:15]

Remember This:

Satan doesn't mind your commitments, as long as you don't keep them. It is better to earn recognition without getting it, than to get recognition without earning it.

As if being tested positive for Covid wasn't bad enough, it also meant that his Nanny and I couldn't see our little man the entire week. We did talk over the phone, but it wasn't the same as having him here with us every afternoon.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers have won more games this season than they did in the previous two years combined, but still haven't been able to make much noise against area opponents as they lost to Zion Chapel last week and will finish last in the four-team area standings yet again. I know it will take time to turn the program back around and it is easy to see the team has improved by leaps and bounds, but it will be fun to be able to stay at home and host area tournaments in the upcoming years. Don't be surprised if it happens a whole lot sooner than many think.

 The Elba Lady Tigers split a pair of area games last week to push their record to 10-10 and it looks like they will finish second in the area standings behind state-power G.W. Long. The Lady Tigers knew it would be a challenging season with only one starter back from a year ago, but have managed to hold their own against most opponents and have the type of team no one really wants to play. The girl's basketball program at Elba High has a solid foundation and this year's success is proof.

 The basketball season is quickly winding down, and while everyone will have an 0-0 record when the post-season starts, all the teams want to finish strong and carry that momentum into the tournaments. On the boy's side, Brantley has lost two of its last three games and will have to be at its best to make it out of a very competitive area tournament, while Zion Chapel is a solid team and can beat anybody on any given night, despite late-season struggles against area foes. Kinston has picked up some wins late in the season and may be the 'surprise' team in its area, and New Brockton will have to play its best to even have a chance. Over with the girls, there are really no teams expected to make much noise when the tournaments tip off. Brantley has a good team, but plays in a very tough area, while Kinston has begun to struggle late in the season, Zion Chapel is improving but not yet a contender, and New Brockton is young and has its better days ahead. Wow, I guess basketball season could end a little early for many of the teams in our area.

 It was an interesting week for area high school football fans with Enterprise hiring Ben Blackmon away from Spanish Fort as its new head coach and Pike County hiring ex-Bulldog quarterback Mark Hurt to lead its program. However, the most interesting headline to me was the news Pike Liberal Arts had applied to join the AHSAA. Pike Lib, located in Troy, has been a member of the AISA since its inception, but last season was one of only 11 Class 3A schools in the entire state that played football, and obviously saw the writing on the wall about the future of the private school organization. Pike Lib has been a dominant force in private school athletics in recent years and has won three straight baseball championships, two straight football titles and is heading for its second straight basketball crown, and that success led to problems finding smaller schools in the private school ranks willing to compete with the Patriots. According to a published report, last season the basketball teams traveled a total of 1,720 miles to compete in twelve road games, while the baseball teams logged 2,048 miles, the volleyball teams logged 1,124 miles and the softball teams traveled 2,230 miles. One example given was a volleyball match in Atmore on a Tuesday night that brought with it a three-hour ride, one-way, resulting in six hours on the road on a school night. This season the basketball team has five road trips to Florida for games, while the baseball team has trips planned to Georgia and Mississippi. School officials expect to be placed in Class 2A in the AHSAA in all sports, and while it is too late for the football team to be placed in a region for the next two years, all other sports are hoping to step right in and be eligible to compete for post-season action in the 2022-2023 seasons. While the football team would have a two-year wait to compete for a state title, school officials also reported they had already spoken with a number of area schools that had open dates and were confident the team would be able to fill a complete schedule for both years. Some of the smaller private schools may last another few years, but it is past time for the AISA and AHSAA to work together and come up with a plan that is best for the students in both organizations.

 In closing.... I have always believed that real coaches could care less about their win-loss record and care much more about the players they coached during their careers and how they may have helped them mature along the way. While I haven't coached in years,

Record slips to 5-15

Tigers fall to late Rebel rally 51-41

The Elba Tigers dropped a pair of area contests last week as their record for the season dropped to 5-15 and their area slate slipped to 0-5.

Following is a recap of last week's basketball action:

G.W. Long 53 Elba 43

The Elba Tigers continued their struggles against area opponents last Tuesday night with a 53-43 home court loss to the G.W. Long Rebels.

Chrystyle Caldwell and Jordan Marek were a force inside in the opening quarter and combined to score 11 points to help the Tigers grab a 13-11 advantage. However, Elba managed only two field goals in the second quarter and watched as the Rebels carried a 31-24 lead in at the half.

Elba's offense continued its struggles in the third stanza, but tightened up on defense and headed into the fourth quarter trailing only 35-30. Alvin Henderson scored 11 points in the fourth quarter to spark life back into the Tigers offensive attack, only to see Long also catch fire and pull away to defeat Elba 53-43.

Alvin Henderson scored 15 points and Chrystyle Caldwell added 10 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Jordan Marek 8, Byron Burks 4, Zaydrian Daniels 3, JT Coleman 2 and Chayse Peterson 1. Kobie Stringer scored 21 points and Avery Roberts added 20 to lead the Rebels.

Zion Chapel 51 Elba 41

The Elba Tigers carried a two-point lead into the final stanza, but failed to turn back a furious fourth quarter rally by Zion Chapel as the Rebels rallied to hand the Tigers a 51-41 area loss.

Jordan Marek and Byron Burks nailed three-pointers in the first quarter to help the Tigers pull out to an early 11-9 lead, and Elba appeared ready to take command midway through the second quarter as its lead grew to 18-9 behind the play of Chrystyle Caldwell. Zion Chapel's Brady Cobb drained two long three-pointers in the closing minutes of the half as the Rebels closed with a 12-4 run to pull within 22-21 at intermission.

Elba managed only three field goals in the third quarter, but used an aggressive defense to stymie the Rebels and carried a 30-28 lead into the fourth quarter. JT Coleman scored 8 points for Elba in the final stanza in an attempt to keep the Tigers ahead, but Brady Cobb poured in 9 points in the stanza and the Rebels connected on 9 of 12 free throw attempts to pull away and hand Elba the key area defeat.

Elba, which hit only 8

I had a true 'coaching moment' I will never forget last week when I went to a local med clinic and when the doctor walked in she said "Hey Coach." My doctor was a young lady that played for me almost twenty-five years ago and the smile on her face let me know she was genuinely happy to see me. She brought in two nurses to meet me and introduced me as her old coach that "completely changed my life." She told the nurses I taught her much more about life than just softball, and that I gave her the competitive drive to always work hard, never give up and the belief that she could succeed in anything she did. She said it was that confidence that helped her reach her goal in the medical field. I was a little disappointed when she came back in and told me I had tested positive for Covid, but not as disappointed as I was that because of Covid I couldn't give her a big hug. That trip to the med clinic resulted in one of the biggest wins of my career!

of 22 free throws in the loss, were led in scoring by JT Coleman with 13 points, while also scoring for the Tigers were Chrystyle Caldwell 10, Byron Burks 5, Alvin Henderson 4, Jordan Marek 3, Cody Gray 3 and Chayse Peterson 2. Brady Cobb scored 18 points to lead Zion Chapel, while also scoring for the Rebels were Chase Horstman 9, Jacob Chestnut 8, Bryce Watson 7, Slade Grantham 4, Cole McDaniel 4, and Zay Adair 1.

Lady Tigers crush Zion Chapel 58-12

The Elba Lady Tigers split a pair of area games last week as their record went to 10-10 on the season and 3-2 in the area.

Following is a recap of last week's basketball action:

G.W. Long 60 Elba 22

The Elba Lady Tigers saw their area title hopes dashed last Tuesday night with a 60-22 home court loss to the sixth-ranked G.W. Long Lady Rebels.

Elba came out with a plan to slow down the game on the offensive end and the plan worked to perfection on the Lady Tigers end of the court as they connected on three of their six shots from the floor, including a three-pointer by Nina Williams, to score eight points in the quarter. Long didn't go along with the plan of their end of the court; however, as the Lady Rebels connected on four three-pointers in the opening stanza to grab a 16-8 lead, and added two three-pointers in the second quarter as they outscored Elba 19-4 to carry a big 35-12 lead in at intermission.

G.W. Long continued its assault from behind the arc with three more three-pointers in the third quarter as its lead grew to 56-16, and neither team could add many points to their totals in the fourth quarter as a running clock resulted in the Lady Tigers falling 60-22.

Nina Williams scored 14 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were A'Lyric Whitfield 3, Alayvia Stinson 2, Kendra Juarez 2 and Ny'Asia McCollough 1. Makenna Long hit five three-pointers and scored 19 points to lead Long, while Emma Claire Long added 13 and Emmaline Hughes scored 11.

Elba 58 Zion Chapel 12

The Elba Lady Tigers pulled ahead early and never looked back to post a lopsided 58-12 area win over the Zion Chapel Lady Rebels, Friday night in Elba.

Zion Chapel got Elba's attention early when a three-pointer by Elly Sheets pulled the Lady Rebels even at 5-5. However, Nina Williams and A'Lyric Whitfield combined for 13 first quarter points and both nailed long three-pointers as the Lady Tigers closed the stanza on a 10-0 run to open up a 15-5 advantage. Williams and Whitfield combined for 16 points in the second quarter as Elba went on a 22-2 run to stretch its lead to 37-7 at intermission, while Brooke Tinsley scored 8 points in the third quarter from inside the paint to push the Lady Tigers lead to 52-11 as they rolled to the big win.

Nina Williams scored 19 points and A'Lyric Whitfield added 13 to spark the Lady Tigers, while Brooke Tinsley added 10, Makayla Moore 6, Ny'Asia McCollough 4, and Casey Williams, Kendra Juarez and Brittany Williams all scored 2 points. Meri Cason Prescott scored 4 points to lead the Lady Rebels, while Kaylen McAllister and Elly Sheets both added 3 and Riley Bannin scored 2 points.

Smithsonian traveling exhibit coming to Elba this February

The Alabama Humanities Alliance has partnered with the Smithsonian's Museum on Main Street (moMS) program to bring the Water/Ways traveling exhibition to five Alabama cities, and Elba is the final stop on the tour.

Traveling through five Alabama cities – Danville, Guntersville, Bessemer, Camden, and Elba – Water/Ways dives deep into the role that water plays in the everyday lives of Alabamians. That includes how water "connects us to nature, sustains life as we know it, nurtures our cities and our culture, unites or divides people and communities, and affects how we live, work, worship, create, and play.

This informative Smithsonian exhibit opens in Elba at the Elba Theatre, located on the square in downtown Elba) on Monday, Feb. 7th. It will be open each Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. with free admission.

The exhibit will be in Elba through March 25th.

Also, Elba and the Alabama Humanities Alliance will host a SUPER Teacher Workshop – WATER WISE: Exploring the History, Diversity and Value of Alabama's Waterways in conjunction with the exhibit on Friday, Feb. 11, at the Elba Public Library, also located in downtown Elba.

Participants of the workshop will explore how Alabama's waterways have shaped Alabama's history, learn to use Google Earth in the classroom, tour the traveling Smithsonian exhibit at the Elba Theatre, and walk to the WPA levee in Elba. Instructors will be Dr. Jim Brown, Ph.D., retired historian (Samford University), and Dr. Bill Deutsch, Ph.D., retired aquatic biologist (Auburn University).

Teacher benefits include a $100 stipend, 5 CEU credits, lunch, tour of Water/Ways, and copy of Dr. Deutsch's book, Alabama Rivers.

Visit the website [https://alabamahumanities.org/program/water-ways/] to register for the teacher workshop.

For more information about the exhibit and/or the teacher workshop, contact Sandy Bynum-Williams at the Elba Chamber of Commerce. Call (334) 897-3125 or email: elbachamber@troycable.net [or see the insert included with this week's newspaper].

"We are very excited to have this exhibit coming to Elba and hope everyone plans to stop by and see it," said Bynum-Williams.

Elba's Coleman Funeral Home participates in "Retire Your Flag Program"

According to the U.S. Flag Code, "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

Wiregrass Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) and Coffee County Veterans have partnered with local funeral homes to implement the "Retire Your Flag Program" for veterans.

When a veteran is cremated, a flag will be cremated with him/her. In doing this, both the veteran and the flag are honored in a very special way.

SAR President Travis

Parker explained, "This is a very fitting and dignified way for both the veteran and the flag to take the next step in their journey and do it together. Since the veteran and the flag 'served together' in life, it's only fitting that they leave together."

The first three funeral homes in Coffee County to provide this service are Coleman in Enterprise and Elba, Searcy in Enterprise, and Sorrells in Enterprise. Anyone with a worn, tattered, or torn flag can drop it off at any of these homes or contact Travis Parker (334-494-7846) to have it picked up.

Local SAR president Travis Parker (left) is pictured with Greg Sowell, owner of Coleman Funeral Home (Elba & Enterprise). Sowell's two funeral homes are participants in the "Retire Your Flag Program" sponsored by the local SAR organization and Coffee County veterans.
